1 Introduction

Privileged Access Management (PAM) is a high level access security solution for managing the privileged accounts in an enterprise. The solution allows organization to secure, control, monitor and audit all the activities associated with all types of Privilege Identities such as Administrators on Windows server, Root on UNIX server, Cisco Enable in Cisco, etc. It is frequently used as an Information Security and Governance tool to help companies prevent data breaches through the use of privileged accounts and meets compliance regulations.

Privileged Access Management (PAM) involves managing privileged individual identities, their authentication, authorization, and privileges/permissions within or across systems and enterprise boundaries with the goal of increasing security and productivity while optimizing the downtime, repetitive task and the cost.
